B. Structure, operations, and supply chains of SG Fleet

1. Business Overview

SG Fleet is a leading provider of integrated mobility solutions, including fleet management, vehicle leasing and salary packaging services, with a presence across Australia, as well as in New Zealand and the United Kingdom. At the end of the 2023 financial year, the Company employed approximately 1,200 staff worldwide and had approximately 270,000 vehicles under management.

During the reported period, SG Fleet operated under multiple brands across corporate and consumer business segments: sgfleet (operating in Australia, UK and New Zealand), nlc (Australia), and LeasePlan (Australia and New Zealand). Use of the nlc brand was phased out during the 2023 financial year.

During the 2022 financial year, SG Fleet acquired the Australian and New Zealand businesses of international fleet management and leasing company LeasePlan Corporation NV. Under the acquisition agreement, use of the LeasePlan brand will be phased out over time.

SG Fleet's operations are primarily office-based. The main categories of supply chain activities relating to or supporting the Company's business activities are as follows:

- provision of daily rental and lease vehicles

- in-life movement of vehicles

Other major categories of suppliers include IT, commercial property, insurance, financial, marketing, and other professional services.

In Australia, SG Fleet works with approximately 11,000 suppliers, ranging from small businesses to multi-national companies. Of the Company's suppliers, 3,007 account for 99% of its total spend.

C. Risks of modern slavery practices in the operations and supply chains of SG Fleet

SG Fleet aims to do business with suppliers that have similar values and ethical business practices, including those related to human rights. The Company assesses risks in its operations and supply chain through consultations with relevant internal stakeholders. Risk factors include the location of the supplier, the nature of the goods and services provided, the level of control SG Fleet has over the supplier and the Company's understanding of the supplier's level of corporate governance.

Following this consultation process, the Company has assessed its exposure to the risk of modern slavery and human trafficking as low as its business operations take place in countries with a relatively low prevalence of slavery. However, the Company recognises that modern slavery risks may go beyond its immediate suppliers, for example where suppliers have operations in countries where slavery and human trafficking is more prevalent, or where suppliers use raw materials in manufacturing (for example the manufacturing of motor vehicles) where those raw materials are sourced from high-risk countries.

D. Actions taken by SG Fleet to assess and address modern slavery risks

1. Policies & Governance

SG Fleet is committed to compliance with all applicable laws and standards in the sectors and jurisdictions in which it operates. The Company's corporate values of trust, excellence, collaboration, and innovation underpin its culture and the way it conducts business.

SG Fleet aims to identify and mitigate the risk of modern slavery and human trafficking occurring within its supply chain and business operations. To this end, the Company maintains a set of policies and procedures that govern the way it operates. The Company's policies and procedures are aligned to its values, govern the way it operates and reflect how it manages its potential human rights issues with regard to operations and supply chain. These policies and procedures include an employee Code of Conduct, employment screening, equal opportunity and diversity and whistle-blower programs and a Supplier Code of Conduct. Compliance with business policies and procedures are monitored through an internal audit program.

2. Supplier Code of Conduct

SG Fleet has adopted a Supplier Code of Conduct, which articulates the Company's expectations from its suppliers, including in respect of their stance on modern slavery and human trafficking, ethical business practices, anti-competitive conduct, safe and fair work conditions, and environmental responsibility.

The Supplier Code of Conduct specifically states that suppliers must ensure that all work is undertaken without coercion or any form of forced, bonded, indentured or involuntary labour.

SG Fleet's standard new supplier agreements include an obligation to comply with its Supplier Code of Conduct or to have an equivalent policy. The Company also reserves the right to conduct ad-hoc audits on suppliers to confirm their adherence to the terms of the agreements.

3. Employees & Training

SG Fleet is committed to maintaining a safe work environment for all staff, which values equal opportunity and is free from discrimination, harassment, and victimisation. Educating staff is fundamental to creating such an environment and to ensuring that potential human rights and modern slavery risks are identified and managed.

SG Fleet entities have policies and procedures concerning employment screening (including work eligibility checks), employment conditions and appropriate workplace behaviour. All staff are expected to abide by the requirements of these policies, in addition to demonstrating behaviour consistent with the Company's values. All new staff are required to complete comprehensive training in relation to SG Fleet policies (including Codes of Conduct), laws and regulations of each state and country relevant to an employee.

Annual 'refresher' compliance training is mandatory for all staff. Completion is monitored and tracked through an online system. Failure to complete the training within the specified timeframe is escalated to the employee's line manager.

Non-compliance with the SG Fleet employee Code of Conduct and other policies is taken seriously. Any failure to comply with the Code of Conduct may lead to disciplinary action, which can include termination of employment.

4. FY2023 Performance

In the 2023 financial year, SG Fleet continued its endeavours to combat modern slavery by:

- reviewing its Supplier Code of Conduct;
- maintaining its requirement that suppliers comply with SG Fleet's Supplier Code of Conduct, which is included in new supplier contracts;
- conducting supplier modern slavery surveys that request a copy of the relevant supplier's published mandatory or voluntary Modern Slavery Statement or details of how the supplier mitigates the risk of modern slavery within its supply chains;
- collaborating with "preferred" suppliers to encourage the publishing of a voluntary Modern Slavery Statement (when such a Statement is not mandatory) as a means of improving the Company's visibility of suppliers' efforts to mitigate risks; and
- maintaining a Whistleblowing Policy that facilitates reporting of risks or alleged incidents of modern slavery.

The Company also continued to monitor:

- customer requests to complete modern slavery related surveys or questionnaires, and requests to provide evidence of compliance with modern slavery legislation;
- reports and analysis of other organisations' efforts to comply with modern slavery legislation; and
- examples of 'best practice' modern slavery reporting.

The Company acknowledges the challenges associated with suppliers providing complete and meaningful responses to its questionnaires and continued to investigate various options for improvement.

Case Study

In the 2022 financial year, SG Fleet issued a tender for the provision of services capable of supporting its modern slavery assessment and mitigation activities by yielding higher survey completion rates and more detailed responses. The tender resulted in the appointment of a specialist provider in the 2023 financial year. This provider conducted a detailed modern slavery risk supplier assessment survey on behalf of the Company in the first quarter of the reported period.

The improved survey approach:

- incorporates a requirement for all “preferred” suppliers to either publish a mandatory or voluntary Modern Slavery Statement, or respond in detail to the Company’s survey, and
- focuses on the leading suppliers, which account for more than 99% of the Company’s spend.

It is the Company’s intention to further develop the survey to incorporate additional questions and achieve a comprehensive environmental, social, and governance assessment of its supply chain.

E. Assessment of the effectiveness of SG Fleet’s actions

1. Effectiveness of the Company’s actions

Although it is difficult to assess the effectiveness of the steps referred to above, relevant indicators include:

- the number of issues or potential issues identified by management;
- the number of notifications of risks or issues raised by staff, the public or law enforcement agencies;
- the incidence of suppliers or other participants in the Company’s industry being involved in modern slavery.

SG Fleet has not received any notifications or identified any issues. However, the Company will continue to remain alert to the risk of modern slavery and human trafficking.

2. Continuous Improvement

Whilst the Company takes the view that it operates in a relatively low risk business sector and that its management and processes minimise the risk of modern slavery or human trafficking occurring, the Company is committed to further improvements and will continue to review and enhance its approach to addressing human rights risks by taking further steps.

This may include:

- continued mandatory modern slavery compliance and risk training for staff;
- mandatory disclosure of modern slavery risks by the Company’s preferred suppliers, annually, along with a request that all preferred suppliers publish a mandatory or voluntary Modern Slavery Statement;
- a particular focus on suppliers in high-risk countries and industries; and
- inclusion of modern slavery risk-based questions in due diligence assessments during the supplier contracting and on-boarding process.

F. Process of consultation with any entities that SG Fleets owns or controls

The senior management of the related entities has been consulted in the preparation, and have reviewed the content of, this Statement.

G. Other relevant information

1. Impact of COVID-19

During the 2023 financial year, the impact of COVID-19 on SG Fleet's operations largely dissipated. The Company takes the view that any remaining impacts did not alter its modern slavery risk profile.
